SOME FREAK STAMPS AROUSE PHILATELISTS

If you chance to come across a two sent postage stamp with no numeral printed on its face, whether it be used er unused, freeze onto it until you can find some amateur philatelist and then sell it to him for what you can get. A recent issue of two cent stamps for some reason bears only the written words "Two Cents" on the face, without the usual numeral which also indicates its value. The word "Posts age" is also left off. The authorities in Washington did not approve of this and have stopped the issue. Whenever there is a natural scarcity of any issue saused by some such action, each sample of the stamps takes on a fletitious whole batch.

The news very soon spread and now active youths with visions of easy wealth in front of them, dive into waste paper baskets and eagerly scan the hope that t hope that it may prove to be one of the frenks.

It is not known how many of these inquiries for such a sample and then sell it for perhaps thirty five cents. But nothing can persuade the cranks that they are not getting a small fortune by gathering in these stamps and so the search for them goes merrily on.

STANDS TO LOSE ON HAWAIIAN DRYDOCKS

Chroniele,-"Anybody who does not understand the nature of the coral form-ation which lines the bottoms of the Hawaiian harbors will stand to lose in making a bid on a contract to build drydocks in Pearl Harbor," remarked Louis Whitehouse, a wealthy contractor of Honolulu, at the Hotel Stewart yesterday. "One of the greatest hindrances to construction in those harbors is the Bability of artesian wells," he con-tinued. "In setting off a blast a man may open up several flows of water which will make him no end of trouble. The government has allowed $2,503,000 for the dredging of the harbor and the construction of drydocks, but I will not be surprised to find that the man who secures the contract will find be fore it is over that he has a white ele-

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL BIDS ARE OPENED

Bids for the new Children's Hospital, for which the sum of $100,000 has been raised by public subscription, were opened yesterday. The lowest bid was that of Angus P. McDonald, who submitted an estimate of $30,000 for the construction of the new building. The bids were all very close, none of them going as high as $40,000.

Second to the bid of McDonald was that of Contractor Chapin, who named his figure at $31,990. The rest of the bids, submitted by local construction men, were as follows: Chalmers, $32,-$37,300, and Bertelmann, $33,756.

STEAMER HALL STRIKES CORAL

(From Thursday's Advertiser.) When the Inter Island steamer W. G. Hall came into port yesterday morning. she brought with her some interesting sharies, chief among which was the fact that the boat had gone on the reef while lying at Waimen. This fact has been carefully husbed up by the officials of the company but the stery leaked out list night when inquiries were made regarding a number of people who were expected, but farled to arrive on the Hall. It seems according ple who were expected, but failed to arrive on the Hall. It seems, according to the tale that was told on the streets, that the Hall was so damaged that the officers of the boat refused to carry passengers to Honolulu except on their cut responsibility. Consequently sine of those expected here did not arrive, there were a support to the white man for Hawall.

J. W. Hoover, who arrived here on the Aorangia a short time ago, has decided to return to the States on the Makura, leaving here on March 2.

According to Hagland the sea was very rough off the coast of Waimea the other day, and at about five o'clock in the evening, the vessel dragged inshore little and touched bottom, The story to the effect that officers denied by Captain Haglund.

Another interesting little incident bappened while the Hall was not far from Honolulu yesterday morning. The steamer Kinau, going out, in command of Captain Clark, met the Hall coming in. Captain Gregory was in charge of the W. G. Hall. When the vessels drew near to each other signals were ex-changed, and, to the surprise of the passengers on both boats, the two passengers on both boats, the two steamers drew up alongside of each other, and the captains exchanged ships. In the meantime they left the C. Dinegar. mates of their vessels in charge on the bridges.

DEMOCRATS WERE VERY GOOD TO THEMSELVES

The Democrats of the House lacked nothing in getting many places on the standing committees except the power to put themselves there. They caucussed, selected the committees they desired to sit with, and presented their recommendations.

When the committees were announced, it was seen that most of them were bunched in the Military committee,

Their list was sent to Hon. H. L. Holstein, prospective Speaker of the House of Representatives, saying, in

"At a caucus of the Democratic members of the House of Representatives, held last evening, the 15th day of February, A. D. 1909, it was unanimously agreed between the members thereof that the following names of members of the House be submitted to you for consideration and appointments by you on the standing committees of the House, to wit: "

Breaking into houses where funerals have just taken place and plundering them is speken of by the Berliner Tageblatt as the latest trick of the thieves of that city. While this may be a new form of criminality in Berlin ages the writer it is really only lin, says the writer, it is really only en imitation of an incident described in Dion Cassius as having taken place 500 years before Christ.

Three hundred careasses of beef nerived on the Hilonian yesterday from the mainland. These were for the Metropolitan Meat Company.
